Cessna Grand Caravan added to the Milford Sound Scenic Flights fleet.

Milford Sound Scenic Flights has added a Cessna Grand Caravan to its already impressive fleet of planes which currently comprises of three GA8 Airvans.

The Cessna Grand Caravan is powered by a Turboprop engine which is quiet, smooth and extremely reliable. The Turboprop engine being the same technology as used on Commuter aircrafts such as the ATR's. The Cessna Caravans also have a proven heritage with thousands of this design flying the world over, from the Poles to desert environments and are unmatched for versatility.

The Cessna Grand Caravan offers seating for 13 passengers in comfortable leather seats, all offering window seats providing excellent scenic viewing. Passenger commentary is piped through overhead speakers which eliminates the need for headphones. Chief pilot Aaron Duff says "The addition of the Cessna Grand Caravan and its ability for all passengers to have window seats is fantastic. This will really enhance the passenger experience on such a spectacular scenic flight. The aircraft really is a significant addition to our operation and allow us to provide a high quality experience for our passengers".

Jeff Staniland, CEO at Skyline Enterprises says "Adding a Caravan to our fleet is a vote of confidence in this product which we believe is the greatest scenic flight in the world".
